no other course. King Victor Emmanuel has telegraphed to Premier Orlando to command him action and insisting that there be no recession from the position Italy has taken. Premier Lloyd George called on Premier Orlando before the council of four met this morning. The two statesmen and a long conference, the British Premier endeavoring to secure a change in the Italian position and induce the Italian representatives to remain.

There was no indication however, of the success of his efforts. It was stated at Italian headquarters today that the break become definite Italy would take steps to approach Germany. Wednesday, April 23.—An anti-war demonstration occurred here today, parades traversing the principal thoroughfares acclaiming Plante and Daladier and cheering for Premier Orlando and Foreign Minister Sonnino because of their attitude regarding Italy's claims at the peace conference. The American, British and French embassies and the offices of the Socialist newspaper Avant were each guarded by 200 soldiers to avoid possible incidents.

Paris, April 24.—At Italian headquarters the announcement was made that the Parliament of Italy would meet immediately upon Premier Orlando's return, probably in a day or two. Preliminary instructions have already been telegraphed to Rome.

ITALY BREAKS AWAY FROM CONFERENCE

(By Associated Press)

London, April 23—As a result of the statement of President Wilson declaring that the demands of the Italian for Fiume would not be granted, the Italian delegation tonight made arrangements by which they will leave Paris on Thursday, according to a message to the Exchange Telegraph.

Italy has received the verdict of the United States in regards to her claims for the whole of the Adriatic and especially as to Fiume. The section that Italians claimed, Fiume and the Dalmatian coast would break from the sea the smaller nations who are to become members of the League of Nations.

President Wilson in a long statement issued today in regards to Fiume, clearly defined the position of the United States in the matter and thus has brought to a climax a matter that has been under discussion for several weeks. In regards to the smaller islands in the Adriatic which Italy was told claim for, Italy said the President, need no longer have any fear of the menace of an attack from Austria-Hungary, as Austria-Hungary no longer exist, and the coast fortifications will be permanently destroyed, while the new states will be restricted in armament.

President Wilson contends that if the principles under which peace is to be made is adhered to, the smaller states must have a right to the seas and that the outlet for commerce from Hungary, Bohemia, Roumania must be kept open.

Premier Orlando immediately called a council of the Italian delegation to prepare a statement to the Italian parliament. Vice Admiral Thaon di Revel, former chief of Naval staff, departed for Rome today. Gen. Diaz the Italian commander-in-chief will leave for Italy tomorrow.

A state of siege has been declared on the port of Trieste and there is a great amount of disorder and many people have been killed. Brenet is also greatly disturbed and Munich is a state of terror.

The Sagamore road is also coming in for complaint and one very prominent summer resident of Rye has written to several of the business men protesting against its condition. The Board of Public Works have no appropriation to carry on much repair work, as the city council have not made up the annual appropriation bill as yet.

Portsmouth, N. H., Thursday, April 24, 1919.

Time for a Change.

Governor Coolidge of Massachusetts made some very sensible remarks a few evenings ago at a meeting of Republicans in a city in the eastern part of that state. He said that "Whatever covenants or leagues can be made between the nations, which, without restricting the sovereignty of America or diminishing her power of determining her own affairs, for the purpose of making war more improbable in the future, will meet with our support. This has long been the attitude of our leading statesmen."

Further on in his address Governor Coolidge touched on business matters, saying: "Economically we are still under artificial conditions. The artificial should become natural. Prices of food and materials should be allowed to find their own level. Any other course is a great drain upon the people, a great handicap to the reopening of trade and industry. Take off restrictions. Turn back the business of the country to the people of the country. The ideal of America is ownership of the property of the country by the people and control of the government by the people."

This is in line with what is doubtless the preponderating sentiment of the country. While there are large numbers of people who have been carried away with the idea of government ownership and operation of public utilities, there are more who are awake to the dangers of the proposition, and who are convinced that the control of business should remain in the hands of the people, who created it. No one disputes that in this age of "big business" the government has the right to protect the people against exploitation at the hands of grasping corporations, and that it is its duty to do this; but it is not properly the business of the government to operate the railroads or other kinds of business. It may have been proper to place its hand to these things as a war measure, but, now that the war is ended, that hand should be withdrawn at the earliest practicable date and the businesses should be restored to their owners, who know how to handle them much better than the government does.

It is consequently gratifying to find men of the stamp of the governor of Massachusetts speaking out in terms not to be misunderstood. He made no personal accusation. He simply dealt with a big subject in a general and business-like way, without flourishes and without bitterness.

It is time for the people to be thinking and acting along these lines. Conditions are, as Governor Coolidge said, artificial, and the sooner they become natural the better it will be. And the first long step toward that end is for the government to retire as a business manager and confine its attention to the work for which it was created.

New York city has given up its night court for women and will hereafter attend to the cases of offenders (F) by daylight, although arrangements have been made for getting these defendants to court with as little publicity as possible. Thus is another great "forward movement" relegated to the rear.

Premier Lloyd-George will next week meet a delegation of Irish-Americans who as representatives of the Irish societies of this country will submit an appeal on behalf of Ireland, which is determined that its cause shall not be lost in the shuffle if it can help itself.

Already Assistant Postmaster General Koons announces that "a general increase in telephone rates is in prospect to meet the increased expenditures of the companies." And yet many who should for the strikers will probably growl when the increase comes.

Jules Vedrines, the famous French aviator, went through the war without a scratch only to be killed by accident the other day while on a flight from France to Rome. No amount of skill is a perfect safeguard against danger in the flying business.

By a big majority the Rhode Island Senate has decided that beverages containing not more than 4 per cent of alcohol shall be "deemed to be non-intoxicating." But that will depend on who does the "deeming."

The Victory Loan drive is proceeding very satisfactorily, a number of cities having already filled their quotas. There is no reason to fear that this city will not easily raise its quota of $625,000.

Notwithstanding the fact that carrier pigeons carried a few messages from Fort Constitution to Boston during the strike, it is a decided relief to have the telephone working again.

The interests of the hospital call for unity and not dissension. More will be accomplished by pulling together than by pulling apart.

ONE SIXTH OF V LOAN SUBSCRIBED

(By Associated Press)

Boston, April 24.—New England subscribed nearly one-sixth of its quota in the Victory Loan in the first three days of the campaign. The totals announced today by the Federal Reserve Bank representing actual purchases up to last night were $61,075,000, as against a quota of $375,000,000. Subscriptions yesterday amounted to $16,658,000, and came from 12,400 individuals. Of that amount Massachusetts contributed $10,695,000; Connecticut $3,009,000; New Hampshire $655,000; Rhode Island $737,000; Maine $462,000; and Vermont $300,000.

New York, April 24.—Victory Liberty Loan subscriptions reported by banks and trust companies in the New York district totaled $115,413,160 at 10 a. m. today, a gain of $25,082,650 over last night's figures.

Washington, April 24.—Subscribers subscriptions to Victory Liberty Loan notes are encouraged by the Treasury to buy registered instead of coupon notes to eliminate the danger of theft or loss. Most subscriptions so far have been for coupon notes. The New England district today had 71 communities above the 100 per cent mark, including Rutland and Bennington, Vt.; Chitt. W. D. Wells of the battleship Kentucky, which is on the way from Portland to New York, reported that the farmers of Aroostook County could find no market for their potatoes and consequently were not subscribing heavily. A few hours later came this cablegram: "Aroostook county's situation improv." Officers and men of the Kentucky have come to the rescue, buying about 40,000 lbs. of spuds to help out subscriptions."

found and Dr. Eastman was sent for at once by a Seabrook man.

Dr. Eastman had Murphy taken to the Portsmouth hospital. It was stated this morning that Murphy had two or three ribs broken and was painfully bruised otherwise. The young man lives in Newburyport.

Murphy said this morning that the limousine was on the wrong side of the road and that it was driven so fast neither car had time to swing out.

Murphy was returning from a trip to Boston at the time, where he had taken some passengers.

The action of the driver of the Packard in not stopping to aid Murphy is in itself a very serious thing, but Murphy states that the limousine was marked up to some extent and that it will be easily found.

Murphy was resting easily at the hospital this morning and will speedily recover.

Five hundred sailors visited the grave of Ex-President Roosevelt at Oyster Bay on last Sunday. They came from the fleet in New York harbor and came in sight-seeing machines furnished by various organizations.

As the crowds stood about the grave the navy boys were all attention. The majority of them had stopped on the way and gathered trailing arbutus, dogwood and cherry blossoms which they placed on the grave.

GREAT PARADE BIG SUCCESS

The U. S. S. Kentucky on duty for the Naval program to help the loaning of the Victory Loan certainly contributed its share at the celebration yesterday.

The ship's company made a fine appearance and helped out local loan committee to put across an eloquent plea for bond subscriptions.

At four o'clock three companies of sailors, two from the Kentucky and one from the Pittsburg, with a company of marines, and three bands were brought across the river and formed on Daniel street.

By this time there was a big crowd of people gathering in the business district and at 4:25 headed by a platoon of police under command of Deputy G. H. Tucker and with the members of the local Liberty Loan Committee, the parade moved down Market street, then Deer, to Vaughan, to Congress, to Middle, to State, to Pleasant street and past the reviewing stand on Pleasant street, after passing the stand they counter marched and moved back and formed at attention facing the stand.

On the reviewing stand were Governor John H. Bartlett, Admiral W. B. Caperton commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet, Rear Admiral C. J. Bonch commandant of the Yard, Rear Admiral J. B. Murdoch, Captain Wells and his executive officer Commander Taylor of the Kentucky, Flag Lieut. Moulton of the Pittsburg, Mayor Albert H. Bishop, Mr. Hector Fuller, Major W. J. Carter and Chairman F. M. Sise of the Liberty Loan and Chaplain Hopkins of the Kentucky.

As soon as the sailors and marines had passed, Mayor Bishop who presided called the assembly to order and in a brief speech welcomed the officers and men and spoke briefly on what Portsmouth would do in the Liberty loan campaign and also extended the welcome to all of the officers. He called attention to the historic occasion the last big financial battle of this the great world war which he said he hoped would be the last.

Governor Bartlett spoke of the early history and traditions of this city. He called attention to the fact that New Hampshire and especially Portsmouth had done its full share in all of the previous bond issues and predicted that it would come across with a big over subscription.

The Governor then introduced Chaplain W. J. Hopkins of the Kentucky, who was on the transport Mount Vernon when she was torpedoed in September off the coast of France. He is a big speaker and he kept the attention of that great crowd of people every minute. He told some interesting things about the system of convoy, and in leading up to the details of the torpedoing of the Mount Vernon said that it was a fact that the navy deliberately placed the returning transports running with just their crews, in the path of danger or rather between the danger and the incoming transports and heavily laden supply ships. He said that the transport President Lincoln and other ships that were torpedoed were evidence of this, they had been torpedoed when they were returning light and without convoy. They had been deliberately placed between the known location of the U-boats and the soldier laden transports.

He said that he had crossed fourteen times and had never seen evidence of a U-boat until awakened that morning by the firing of a gun and a second after being lifted out of his bunk and thrown on the floor by the force of the explosion of the torpedo, as she struck the big transport midship, killing thirty-six of the steerage crew. He pictures vividly what followed as the big ship dropped down ten feet into the water flooding her engine rooms, putting her radio out of commission and even her guns, the rush to save the wounded soldiers who were on board and the bravery of the crew working to bolster up the water tight compartments. How the ship was brought back to Brest her hole filled with concrete and her voyage back to this country to be repaired and once more take her place in the transports, but this time bringing the soldiers home, for the armistice had been signed.

Chaplain Hopkins during the address recited three poems, which afterwards he admitted that he had written, and they were very descriptive of the work of the navy. He closed with a poem paying a tribute to the men killed on the Mount Vernon.

He was given a great ovation on his finish of his talk, and immediately the band struck up "The Star Spangled Banner" and every officer and enlisted man came to attention and swinging around to face the music, while the civilians uncovered.

Navy Yard Making Big Showing in Loan

Naval Constructor Robert Ferrell who has charge of the Victory Loan at the navy yard reported last evening that the navy yard had taken in two days $450,000 bonds.

He is preparing a large map showing the progress each day of the Victory ship which is making the trip around from the west coast to New York making only such progress as the Victory loan sales. It is hoped that a similar map or chart may be made for this city and the progress of the ship noted in this city as at the yard.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS EASTER BALL

Big Crowd present and Affair a Great Success--A Very Pretty Dancing Party

The Portsmouth Council Knights of Columbus held their annual ball on Wednesday evening at Freeman's Hall and it was one of the most successful affairs ever held by this bustling organization. It was one of the prettiest parties of the entire winter, and there was a very large attendance and a most enjoyable time. It was a dressy affair and the floor scene with the decorations made a very pretty picture. The hall was very handsomely decorated, the decorations of the P. A. C. were in place and to these were added a ceiling of festoons of colored ribbons which was very effective. Mardon's orchestra with Mrs. Clara Mardon leader played for the concert and dancing and furnished excellent music. The grand march was led by Mayor

Hilop and Mrs. Frank Donnelly followed by Grand Knight Frank Donnelly and Mrs. Mattison, and they were joined by the past Grand Knights and ladies an the officers and 166 couples. The march was well executed and very effective.

There were twenty numbers on the program and it was one o'clock before the large crowd regrettably left the hall.

The games are those that are played on the play grounds of the schools and they were under the direction of the teachers. There were twelve teams of boys and twelve of the girls and they entered into the sports with a zeal that was refreshing.

It was a great success and special credit is due to Miss McDonald, principal of the Haven school, who had charge of the general organization and details. The schools represented were: Farragut 6th, two teams, Misses Lynn and Thompson; Haven, 6th, Miss Keeney; 6th, two teams, Misses Martin and Hilliard; Lafayette, 6th, two teams, Misses Morrison and Fogg; 6th, two teams Misses Condon and Newton; Spaulding, combined 6th and 8th under Misses Quinn and Johnson.

LOAN WORKERS TO GET 'PLANE RIDE'

Washington, April 23.—Here's a chance for a ride in an airplane. The treasury department has instructed loan committees to grant a flight to the loan workers selling the largest amount of bonds in their community that day. Also the purchase of the largest amount of bonds will be given a "ride" in one of the machines, said Mr. Osborne.

Let anyone who thinks Shakespearie is dull or "high-brow" see this wonderful union of comedy and tragedy and if he can sit through the ride without hearty laughter he should get back his money at the box office.

The young man who made such a success as the Spanish dancing girl in the January show is featured in an original pantomime "In Old Madrid," in which the catches is again danced with much more brilliant and beautiful surroundings than in the former play.

Both prisoners take part—eight men and six "fights"; it is hard to tell which are the prettier—the Spanish beauties of Madrid in the pantomime or the Greek maidens of Athens in the play.

PRISONERS TO GIVE THE EASTER SHOW IN PORTSMOUTH

With the kind permission of the Secretary of the Navy, the Portsmouth Naval Prisoners are to be allowed to give another public theatrical entertainment.

The Easter "show" given at the Naval Prison last Saturday, will be repeated at the Portsmouth Music Hall this week on Friday and Saturday evenings. A special matinee for the local children will be given on Saturday afternoon.

All who saw the prisoners' January performance will agree that no audience ever received better money's worth, and this new "show" is fully up to the standard. As it was given last Saturday at the prison, it was probably one of the most amusing as well as one of the most beautiful dramatic performances. The vaudeville acts are excellent; the singing good; the dancing very remarkable; and the acting of the comic scenes from the Midsummer Night's Dream unusually funny.

It is supposed that I have seen this play acted a great many times by both amateurs and professionals (beginning with a performance at the Royal Opera in Dresden in 1870) but for freshness, thoroughness and the true spirit of comedy, this performance is the best I have ever witnessed," said Mr. Osborne.

Let anyone who thinks Shakespeare is dull or "high-brow" see this wonderful union of comedy and tragedy and if he can sit through the ride without hearty laughter he should get back his money at the box office.

The young man who made such a success as the Spanish dancing girl in the January show is featured in an original pantomime "In Old Madrid," in which the catches is again danced with much more brilliant and beautiful surroundings than in the former play.

Both prisoners take part—eight men and six "fights"; it is hard to tell which are the prettier—the Spanish beauties of Madrid in the pantomime or the Greek maidens of Athens in the play.

The dances which close the scenes

ATTENDING CONVENTION

A good number from this city are attending the Victory Convention of the Buckingham County Christian Church, Draper, Queen, at North Hampton today.

from the Midsummer Night's Dream are of great variety and charm, and like the pantomime, are of original manufacture.

Mendessohn's famous Wedding March will be played before the last act of the play for which it was originally written.

In short, the entertainment presents a medley of music, dancing, acting and singing, which is quite unique, amusing and delightful. This pantomime have worked hard to prepare this entertainment, it for Portsmouth, and it is hoped that the public will repay them by its hearty support and appreciation.

LIBERTY BONDS ARE GOING FAST SAYS COMMITTEE

Navy Yard, Ship Yards and Business Generally Helping the Victory Loan.

Response to the appeal for Liberty Bond buyers has been large in Portsmouth, although no figures will be available until Friday morning.

Many of the shops at the Navy Yard have reported a 100 per cent total that have purchased bonds. Many of the departments are well on their way to join the 100 per cent class.

The banks all report a large subscription list to the newest government offering and predict that the buying will speed up as the people awaken to the opportunity for the present bond issue is a better investment, yielding a larger rate of interest than any of the preceding ones.

At the Atlantic Corporation the campaign started on the jump and the shipworkers are buying early and often.

A band concert and speakers in the plate shop at noon has had much to do with the success of the drive.

The blacksmith shop yesterday had subscribed over $4,000 in bonds and many more of the departments are shooting for that mark or higher.

The Shattuck yard is well on its way to a big record and the various departments are on their toes to be the champ spenders on the Victory Loan.

Other places of business are hustling to make the loan a success and when the raffle and confectionary start next week Portsmouth's quota of $625,100 should be raised in big time.
